

Wagons! Wagons! Wagons!

Before you buy you should examine our hand made farm wagons. They run lighter, are made of the very best material and last far longer than any machine made wagon you can buy no matter what price you pay.

We also do all kinds of Blacksmithing and Repairing, especially the hard jobs the other fellow can't do.

We also make a specialty of Horseshoeing and earnestly solicit your patronage in this line.

Respectfully yours,

ITALY THE CHEAPEST COUNTRY TO LIVE IN

FAMILIES HAVE TO HAVE POLITICAL "PULL" TO GET EGGS AND SUGAR, HOWEVER.

Rome, April 23.—After two years of war, Italy continues the cheapest country in which to live of all those engaged in the present struggle.

In the larger cities the housekeeper's menu has become limited by governmental decree, forbidding the sale of meats and pastries on certain days of the week, but otherwise the cost of food has hardly doubled. In the country towns and on the farms little or no attention is paid to such restrictions and there food is scarcely dearer than before the war except for meat, sugar and coffee. While only brown bread may be sold, its price is five cents a pound, the Government shouldering the increased cost of wheat.

Governmental regulations forbidding the sale of meat on Thursdays and Fridays, and of cakes, pastry, honey and chocolate on Saturdays, Sundays and Mondays have not limited consumption, but encouraged speculation in all foods. When sugar was raised it became difficult to buy, and now can only be had in five-cent packages or on a purchase of coffee. When meat sales were restricted eggs were sold at five to six cents each or were stored for a rise until huge quantities were confiscated by the Government.

The difficulties of housekeeping have become such in the large cities that sugar, eggs and other articles cannot be obtained by family cooks unless some member of the servant's family has political influence. For this reason it is not unusual to see diplomats, Ambassadors, Ministers, Consuls and other foreign officials going to market and carrying home their own packages, since the storekeepers dare not refuse them the articles refused the servants.

Ambassador Thomas Nelson Page has been one of the persons in Rome to try to solve the flour, ham and sugar problem by making an importation from the United States. At present his is the only family of the American colony in Italy which has as much as a barrel of sugar on hand.

Some American families gave up housekeeping and went to live in hotels, but there, since the food restrictions, they are unable to get buttermilk with their bread at breakfast, and in many cases have to substitute honey for sugar in their coffee, a food substitute not unlike the molasses sweetening prevalent during the Civil War in the United States.

"Burns Buys Cats"

We worked one state idea with fair success on a home merchant, whom we may as well call Burns. He had promised to advertise if we could convince him that people read anything in the paper besides the local news. Three syllables did the work: In our smallest type, the last line of the last column on the last page that week read: "Burns buys cats." He had reason to be convinced that ads are read!—Earlington Bee.

Hope Sinking in Germany.
The military critic of the Berlin Zeitung announces that letters from many of his correspondents "show that their nerves are beginning to give way," and, proceeding from this point, he proceeds to scold the Berlin population very severely for permitting themselves to get discouraged by "isolated events" in France.

The fact that discouragement is really beginning to spread in Berlin is of much more importance than anything else the Zeitung critic has to say. Until very recently a large majority of the German people have cherished the strongest delusions in regard to the progress of the war. As recently as last December all of Germany was stupefied by the fact that the allies did not jump at a chance to accept the Kaiser's peace on the Kaiser's terms. The belief was general that the allies were completely defeated and were only holding on because they were too stupid to understand what had happened to them. There is an old saying that whatever goes up must come down, and the hopes of the German people, having been maintained far higher than events have justified, are certain to begin to sink some time, and when they begin to sink the decline may be fast. Now we learn that four out of five letters to the organ of German militarism "breathe deep discouragement," and, as yet, not a half of the stern facts of the situation are known in Germany.—Louisville Evening Post.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Watching the Germans.

Washington, April 21.—Approximately 3,000 German residents of the United States are under close surveillance, Department of Justice officials announced yesterday, because of their activities in behalf of the German government before America's entry into the war, or because of their pro-German sympathies.

The department's field force of investigators, now grown to formidable proportion, is keeping so close a watch upon the small army of suspects that it would be possible, it is authoritatively stated, to arrest virtually every man under suspicion within twenty-four hours. The suspects are located in every State of the Union.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill."

I wish every suffering woman would give
